ORIGINAL QUINTON™ MARINE PLASMA
HOW IT'S HARVESTED		YES	NO
1	Anywhere in the ocean		X
2	In a non-plankton bloom environment		X
3	From deep seawater		X
4	From the center of a seasonal vortex plankton bloom, discovered by René Quinton	X
René Quinton proved that plankton water is not like other seawater. The plankton bloom is protected, and only one company is authorized to harvest marine plasma from it. That's where Original Quinton comes from.
HOW IT'S PROCESSED		YES	NO
1	Irradiated		X
2	UV treated		X
3	Desalinated		X
4	Cold sterilized in a pharmaceutical facility	X
It's very important to sterilize marine plasma for consumption by humans, but the sterilization process must not destroy the "alive" nature of the plasma. There are many health-restoring constituents in Original Quinton that are destroyed by UV and/or heat sterilization. René Quinton knew this back in 1897, and that's why his protocols for processing are to this day followed very strictly.
HOW IT'S PACKAGED		YES	NO
1	Standard plastic bottle		X
2	Metal bottle		X
3	Double-tipped glass vial	X
The Original Quinton Plasma glass vial has been designed to preserve the potency and "aliveness" of the marine plasma. We do not see this when Quinton Marine Plasma is packaged in a standard plastic bottle. The glass vial packaging was designed in 1897 by René Quinton himself, and each ampoule contains the appropriate incremental dosage. No measuring. No hassle.
HOW IT'S DISTRIBUTED		YES	NO
1	Sold without advice from or consultation with a health professional or sports physiologist		X
2	Available through your trusted health professional or sports physiologist	X
Original Quinton Marine Plasma has been shown to be so effective for supporting optimal health, that we, along with the Quinton family, believe that health professionals and sports physiologists must be involved to assure the most effective use of Quinton Marine Plasma in clinical and sports performance environments.
THE COMPANY PROVIDING IT TO YOU		YES	NO
1	A company unrelated to the Quinton family		X
2	The only company manufacturing pure Quinton Marine Plasma, still partially owned by the family of René Quinton	X
Quinton successfully coordinated the administration of Quinton marine plasma in over 16 hospitals throughout France during the 1918 Flu epidemic.
